The purpose of a home inspection is to assess the condition of the residence at the time of the inspection using visual observations, simple tools and normal homeowner operational controls; and to report deficiencies of specific systems and components. A home inspection is not technically exhaustive and does not identify concealed conditions or latent defects. The term "Satisfactory" in the report means the item serves its intended purpose.

This report is prepared in accordance with the chapter 308-408C W.A.C. dated 03/20/09 plus a Complete Wood Destroying Organism Inspection (Structural Pest Inspection). Testing garage door openers for "auto reverse on impact" is specifically excluded as tested can result in damage to the door and/or opener.

This inspection is intended to reduce risk to the homeowner, however cannot eliminate risk. The Client understands that Hergert Inspection L.L.C. will inspect a representative amount of the structure, however not to 100%. This limitation does not apply to the Complete Wood Destroying Organism portion of the inspection.

COMPLETE WOOD DESTROYING ORGANISM (Structural Pest Inspection) INSPECTION REPORT

This report is prepared from an inspection conducted by a Washington State Department of Agriculture licensed Structural Pest Inspector in accordance with Washington Administrative Code 16-228-2005 through 16-228-2045. Opinions contained herein are based on conditions visible and evident at the time of the inspection. This report does not warrant, represent, or guarantee that the structure reported on is free from evidence of WDO's, their damage, or conditions conducive to WDO's; nor does it represent or guarantee that the total damage, infestation, or infection is limited to that disclosed in this report.

I. Inspection Procedures

The inspector shall make a thorough inspection, using accepted methods and practices, of the subject to render an opinion on the presence of, or damage from WDO's as well as conditions conducive to such WDO's.

Areas Inspected shall include: structural exterior (accessible both visibly and physically to an inspector at ground level); accessible structure interior; accessible sub structural crawl space(s); garages, carports and decks which are attached to the structure. Deck inspections shall include; railings, wooden steps, and accessible wooden surface materials, as well as deck substructures which are accessible (those with at least a 5 foot soil to joist clearance, or elevated decks which can be suitably reached using a 6 foot step ladder).

Wood Destroying Organisms shall include: subterranean termites; dampwood termites; carpenter ants; moisture ants; wood boring beetles of the family Anobiidae; and wood decay fungus (rot). The inspector will not assume any responsibility for WDO's that were not detected during their dormant season. When evidence of moisture ants, dampwood termites, wood infesting anobiids, or wood decay fungi is detected during a Complete WDO Inspection, the inspector must identify and report the condition(s) conducive to such infestations. It must be stated in the report that such infestations may be eliminated by removal of all infested wood and correction of any contributing conducive conditions.

Conducive Conditions, as determined by the inspector, shall include, but not be limited to: inadequate clearance; earth to wood contact; conducive debris in the crawl space; inadequate ventilation; excessive moisture; vegetation contact with the structure; bare ground in the crawl space; existing or seasonal standing water in the crawl space; failed caulking or grout in water splash areas; and/or non-functioning gutter systems.

2. Limitations of Inspections

The inspecting firm shall not be held responsible by any party for any condition or consequence of WDO's which is beyond the scope of inspection. The scope, defined in Section I, Inspection Procedures, is limited as follows:

(a) Inaccessible Areas: Certain areas of a structure, which are inaccessible by their nature, may be subject to infestation by WDO's yet cannot be inspected without excavation or unless physical obstructions are removed. Such areas include, but are not limited to: wall voids; spaces between floors; substructures concealed by sub-floor insulation or those with inadequate clearance; floors beneath coverings; sleeper floors; areas concealed by furniture, appliances, and/or personal possessions; and deck substructures with less than 5 foot clearance.

(b) Roof Systems and Attic Areas: Roof systems, roof coverings and attic areas shall be inspected in accordance with the Washington State Home Inspector Standards of Performance, chapter 308-408C WAC.

(c) Sheds and Outbuildings: Sheds, garages, carports, decks and other structures, which are not attached to the main structure by a roof system or foundation, are excluded from this report unless specifically requested and noted. The inspecting firm reserves the right to charge additionally to inspect any unattached structures.

(d) Climatic Conditions: In certain geographical areas of Washington State where wet climate is common, and due to their construction and materials, structures may be subject to conditions from normal weathering. Such conditions as cracking, checking, and/or warping of doors, window casings, siding, and non-supporting wooden members shall not be reported on inspection reports except at the discretion of the inspector. Inspectors are not required to report on any wood destroying organism infestation, infection, or other condition that might be subject to seasonal constraints or environmental conditions if evidence of those constraints or conditions is not visible at the time of the inspection.

(e) Mold: Molds, mildews, and other fungal growth (except wood decay fungi) shall be reported on only to the extent that they indicate an excessive moisture condition which may be conducive to WDO's. The inspector is not liable or responsible for determining the type of mold, mildew, or other fungi present, nor shall the inspector be liable or responsible for determining the possible health hazards associated with the presence of molds, mildews, or other fungi. This report is not, nor shall the inspector perform a mold inspection or investigation. If a more qualified opinion is desired, the services of a toxicologist or certified industrial hygienist should be obtained.

(f) Structural Assessment: While it may be possible for the inspector to note damaged materials, neither the inspector nor the inspection firm is liable or responsible in any way to determine the structural integrity of any building materials. If a more qualified opinion is desired, the services of a licensed, qualified contractor or structural engineer should be obtained.

(g) Remaining Evidence: In certain situations, it may not be practical to eliminate all evidence of previous WDO activity (e.g., carpenter ant frass, insect parts, or subterranean termite scaling), or evidence of conducive conditions, (e.g., water staining). Although noted, this evidence may remain after corrections have been made or if it is the inspector's opinion that the evidence is from inactive WDOs and no corrections are recommended.

Neither the inspector nor the inspecting firm shall be liable or responsible for any corrective action required by future inspections in regard to this remaining evidence.
